High Plains Little League Boundary Map

League boundary populations are determined using U.S. Census Bureau data combined with projections derived from past trends to forecast the total population for the current year. Little League uses Esri Demographics, an industry-leading GIS data provider to source league boundary populations with a high level of accuracy.